Online Workshop – Leveraging Social Procurement to strengthen your community

Momentum is growing across government and corporate settings to increase levels of 'Social Procurement' and achieve greater community outcomes through your purchasing power. LGP has collaborated with Social Traders to explore how local government can make the most of this emerging procurement practice.

At this interactive online workshop we will cover:

- What is Social Procurement
- Who are Social Procurement suppliers, and how/where do you find out about them
- What are local councils doing already in this space, and what have they learned
- How do you create your own approach to Social Procurement, including practical tips and examples
- How intermediaries like Social Traders, Supply Nation, Femeconomy etc, can support you moving forward

Presented by Rhianna Dean, Social Traders
